

WILL GRACE RUN AGAIN?

TAMMANY WILL NOT BE SURPRISED IF HE IS NOMINATED.

Dr. Crosby's flaming letter to him published in the Advance toward Union Perceptible in Irving Hall Appoints a Conference Committee—Attempted Stampede to George.

In default of any solid advance toward a union of the Democratic factions, the local campaign is drifting into a contest between business booms. Mayor Grace is getting ready to run for Mayor again. He secured Dr. Crosby's permission to publish the letter Dr. Crosby wrote to him on Sept. 21, and it was furnished to the newspapers yesterday. This is the letter:

My dear Mr. Grace: I trust you will yield to the ardent desire of your friends and be a candidate for a third term. I am sure that no politician can be so true to a standpoint as you are no official or official order to occupy and with this advantage know that your last term has done more for true reform in the city than all the terms of all the Mayors who have preceded you.

My dear Mr. Grace, you have stopped the ring business and have done more for true reform in the city than all the terms of all the Mayors who have preceded you. You have done more for true reform in the city than all the terms of all the Mayors who have preceded you. You have done more for true reform in the city than all the terms of all the Mayors who have preceded you.

The moral case of the community is with you, and only the low, immoral, and dishonest politicians are against you. You would be sure of the County Democracy vote and of the better part of the Republican vote, and also of the vote of the independent voters in political circles, the honest independent voters, Tammany would have no chance.

It is true that the Tammany men have a great deal to say about the city, but they are not the city. They are the Tammany men, and they are not the city. They are the Tammany men, and they are not the city. They are the Tammany men, and they are not the city.

Tammany leaders are confident that Mayor Grace means to run. The County Democracy nomination has always been at his disposal for the future of the city. He is the strongest man in the County Democracy nomination. He is the strongest man in the County Democracy nomination. He is the strongest man in the County Democracy nomination.

The Tammany Committee of twenty-four met in the city hall yesterday afternoon. A leader said that they would not make a nomination until they had the County Democracy nomination. They would not make a nomination until they had the County Democracy nomination. They would not make a nomination until they had the County Democracy nomination.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

HENRY GEORGE'S CAMPAIGN.

The List of Pledged Voters Growing—Mr. George and the Printers.

If the George pledges keep on coming in the way they have been doing since it was announced Tuesday night's ratification meeting that the lists would be kept open until election day, there will be over 50,000 names of men who have voluntarily pledged themselves to vote for Henry George for Mayor. The salesmen, bookkeepers, and clerks who were mostly canvassed before are being visited now, and 12,000 more signatures are expected from them alone. The lists already in have been printed and sorted by assembly districts. The others are sorted as soon as received.

A committee from the Labor party had hired Irving Hall for a French George demonstration on Thursday night, and had made a deposit of $55. When they called to make good their deposit they were told that they could not have the hall, as the proprietor was under contract with the Irving Hall organization to let the hall to no other political organization.

Henry George will speak at two meetings on Tuesday night at Avenue C and Eleventh street and the other at Marion square, Marion and Spring streets. On Sunday a week he will deliver his lecture on Moses at Nelson Hall for the benefit of the Hebrew Benevolent Society. He will also speak at the meeting of the men who have voluntarily pledged themselves to vote for Henry George for Mayor. He will also speak at the meeting of the men who have voluntarily pledged themselves to vote for Henry George for Mayor.

The George campaign is brighter than they were before. Dan Lamont, Secretary of the Tammany Committee, has left, but Mr. Hill and Mr. Manning are here and are likely to remain until this morning or tomorrow. They are going to offer to have a union rally made and to get away to-day at the latest. Both Tammany and the County Democracy are going to have a union rally made and to get away to-day at the latest.

The Tammany Committee of twenty-four met in the city hall yesterday afternoon. A leader said that they would not make a nomination until they had the County Democracy nomination. They would not make a nomination until they had the County Democracy nomination. They would not make a nomination until they had the County Democracy nomination.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

THE HOME CLUB'S VICTORY.

ITS DELEGATES FROM ST. LOUIS ADMITTED TO THE CONVENTION.

A Whitewashing Report of the Committee of Investigation Championed by Powderly and Adopted—The Convention Organized. RICHMOND, Oct. 8.—To-day has been a field day for the Home Club. The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor has at last organized. The report of the Committee on Credentials has been accepted. Mr. Powderly has delivered his already-published speech, and the way is now clear for the work that is to be done. The Committee on Credentials finished its work late last evening, and when the Assembly met this morning it was ready to report on the contest over the St. Louis delegation. District Assembly 17 of St. Louis has two factions in its ranks. At an election held forty days before the Assembly met, as the constitution provides, six delegates were chosen. They were equally divided between the Home Club and anti-Home Club factions. As Secretary Turner needed all the support he could get, he sent the Home Club delegates to St. Louis a dispensation, permitting him to hold an election within the constitutional limit. Heep and his faction held such an election on Sept. 23, and reelected the three Home Club men already chosen and three others. One of these was a man named "Frank" who had been a member of the Home Club for some time. He was a man of some ability, and he was a man of some ability. He was a man of some ability, and he was a man of some ability.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

ROBBING PETER TO PAY PAUL.

The Simple Methods by which Mr. Gray Swindled Two Great Corporations.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The indolence of William Gray, Jr., operations in robbing the Atlantic and Indian Ocean Mail Lines, told in a report to the stockholders to-morrow. He began in 1877 to keep a private account with each corporation, but did nothing worse than draw his salary ahead of time previous to 1882. In that year he put into operation a simple and perfect system of robbing the two companies, and set aside two days in each year upon which days the books and accounts were prepared for examination. The days of examination of the Atlantic Mail Lines were the last Saturdays of April and October; those of the Indian Ocean Mail Lines were the first Saturdays of June and December. Upon these days each of the companies was in the following position: Its receipts were fully accounted for, its expenditures all properly vouched for, its proper balance of cash on hand in the banks properly as stated, and nothing whatever was due to Mr. Gray. The day after the examination, however, the books were simply re-written, and the same time the books of the other company had also been examined, the result would have been as follows: Its receipts would have been properly vouched for, but its balance of cash on hand would have fallen just so much more than it really was. The result would have been as follows: Its receipts would have been properly vouched for, but its balance of cash on hand would have fallen just so much more than it really was.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

RENEWING THE BIG FIGHT.

EIGHT THOUSAND MEN STRIKE FOR THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

The Chicago Packers Heaters the Ten-Hour Day—Their Hands Quit Work—Hundreds of Officers on Guard at the Packing Houses. CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—If the big strike which was begun at the stock yards this morning does not result in bloodshed it will be little less than marvelous. Nearly all the big men of the city are now idle. The employees say that inasmuch as the packers intended to lock them out on Monday, unless they returned to the ten-hour day, they thought it best to give the first blow. The struggle promises to be a stubborn one. The men say they are prepared for a siege, and that they will fight to the bitter end rather than return to the old system.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

AN ANARCHIST PLOT.

A Scheme to Burn Vienna and Assassinate the Emperor.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Chronicle's correspondent at Paris says he has just heard from Vienna the details of a startling anarchist plot to destroy Vienna and to assassinate Emperor Francis Joseph. The conspirators, whose plans were frustrated by the authorities, had intended to carry out the plot on Oct. 4. Various timber stores were to be set on fire throughout the city, and the great conference hall buildings were to be blown up with dynamite. The police seized immense quantities of bombs and explosives in different parts of the city, especially near the imperial residence at Schönbrunn and beneath the bridge leading to the palace where the Emperor crosses daily. It was also intended to make an attempt upon the life of the Emperor at the same time. A large number of foreigners and Austrians were arrested.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

MR. STAUNTON TESTIFIES.

HE SAYS HE IS A FERVENT MAN, NOT EXHIBITOR OR IRRITABLE.

At the resumption of the trial of Pastor Benjamin Staunton before the Brooklyn Presbytery yesterday the venerable Dr. Spear was ready with a carefully prepared list of questions minutely worked out. His examination in the charge, and on by one propounded them to the accused minister. Mr. Staunton's bearing in the witness chair was much more quiet and dignified than on the previous day. In reply to the questions, he said:

On the night before the alleged killing I did not occupy the same room as my wife. We were in a state of alteration on any subject whatever about the time I am accused of killing my wife. The first time I went to my wife when I came down stairs on the morning of Feb. 24 and found her dead in her bed. I went to my wife when I came down stairs on the morning of Feb. 24 and found her dead in her bed. I went to my wife when I came down stairs on the morning of Feb. 24 and found her dead in her bed.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came forward to applaud and shout. The others, however, Rogers waited a while and went on. George is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job. He is a good enough fellow, but he is not the man for the job.

At the sound of George's name about 60 of the delegates to the convention came